STORMS ON THE ATLANTIC.

Experiences of the Passengers on the Umbrid and Augusta Victoria. New York, Oct. 12 .- All the transatiantic steamers arriving at this port report heavy weather at sea. Among the arrivals this morning were the Hamburg-American line steamer Augusta Victoria from Hamburg and Southampton and the Cunard line steamer Umbria from Liverpool and Queenstown.

The special correspondent of the London Daity Chronicle, Mr. Alfred Kinnear, gives the following account of the extraordinary experiences of the Umbria upon her last voyage: Five hours after passing Fastnet Light we struck a first-class gale, which, by noon on Monday, had attained hurricane force, the wind velocity being from forty-five to fifty miles. On Tues-day the gale having veered to northwest blew with greater vehemence and during the night the ship roiled heavily in a terrific gale, but about 5 o'clock on Wednesday morning we steamed into fine weather and passengers were able to go on deck for the first time since Sunday evening. The glass, however, fell all that day and about 6 o'clock we entered another storm and about 6 o'clock we entered another storm center, through a ridge of hurricane squalls, and were speedily in the thick of it all again. At 10 o'clock, wind and sea thundering upon the ship, a "pin" in the engine room was discovered to be loose, and the machinery was stopped; this incident being vaguely described by the engineer in reply to an anxious passenger as only a bug in the shifter. The storm increased, the Umbria lying at the mercy of the waves and rolling with a dull headaching waves, and rolling with a dull head-aching stolidity; but in four hours we were heartily glad to be able to resume our dramatically checkered voyage.

During the whole of Thursday it continued to blow with severity from the northwest, the ocean resembling so much mountain scenery of rolling hills, precipitous crags and yawning chasms, crested with snow, and described by one passenger as "a finer sight than Niagara." In the afternoon we passed a schooner laboring under storm canvas and apparently waiting for each moment to be her last, but she seemed snug and o be her last, but she seemed snug and o be skillfully handled, albeit she made no signal to us whatever. A respite in the night was followed in the morning, it being now Friday, by a smart son wester accompanied by rain. Throughout we shipped immense quantities of water, but beyond a portion of the saloon being stove in and one of the davits sprung the casualties have been almost paradoxically few in number, the ship behaving ad mirably in most trying circumstances.

Unfortunately the passengers suffered acutely notwithstanding the unremitting efforts made for their comfort by the purser, Mr. Fr lds, and the steward, Mr. Bond, and by those act ing under the direction of those contlemen.
Two saloon passengers (male), one Mr Harrison of Sheffield, were somewhat seriously injured by falling, their injuries necessitating A lady, Mrs. Morman, on her way home to Louisville, Ky., accompanied by her son, died on Wednesday from apoplexy, following sea-sickness and the excitement inseparative from the storm of the previous two days. The un-fortunate lady received every attention from the ship's surgeon, who exhausted his skill in her behalf. The body was embalmed and housed during the remainder of the passage in one of the life boats. The voyage has proven the worst experienced by the Umbria for many months, and has strikingly illustrated the grim resources of the Atlantic ON THE AUGUSTA VICTORIA.

gusta Victoria, which arrived this morning from rience to that of the Umbria. The vessel ran into the gale on the 4th and could not shak; it off until the 9th. The seas ran mountains high and frequently broke over the bows of the steamer, washing everything movable from the steamer, washing everything movable from the decks.

A sudden roll of the vessel on the wildest day of the storm threw down many of the passengers, and when picked up four were found to have broken arms and legs, while eight others were severely bruised. The French steamship La Bretagne also met the gale on the fourth. Throughout the storm, which lasted until the 8th the sea way year, rough and though the 8th, the sea was very rough, and though the steamer labored very heavily comparatively few seas washed aboard.

Capt. Collier of the Brotagne reports that some fishing vessel capsized in the storm and that her crew took to the boats and perished.

BIG TASK FOR A RAINMAKER.

Melbourne to Water Northwestern Kansas for Ten Cents an Acre. Topera, Kan., Oct. 12 .- A Goodland, Kan., dispatch says: The contract by which Frank Melbourne agrees to produce crep rains in northwestern Kansas during June, July and August for 1892 has been signed. A mass meeting of the citizens was called and a com-meeting of the citizens was called and a committee appointed to confer with Melbourne. The rainmaker stood by his first proposition to furnish rain at 10 cents an acre.

A series of meetings will be held in the various counties of this state for the purpose of awakening public interest. Melbourne will attempt to make a similar contract with twenty counties of Colorado, claiming that he can easily water every county in the state from one point. The irrigation companies in Colorado will fight the scheme, and it will probably be fought in this state, on the ground that the irrigation act does not cover a proposition such as Melbourne has submitted.

ALIEN LAND OWNERSHIP. A Texas Judge Declares the Law to Be of No Effect.

Waco, TEX., Oct. 12.-The state of Texas brought suit in the district court here against Theodore Mallison to escheat his land under the alien land law. Mallison being a subject of Great Britain Judge Goodrich held that the law was void, inoperative and of no effect. First, because of errors in his caption of the bill, and, secondly, because it is in violation of existing treaties and conventions with other powers. The case was appealed to the appearance court appealed to the supreme court. There seems to be no doubt that Judge Goodrich will be sus-

Rome, Oct. 12.-The Brindisi express, on poard of which train were Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley and Mrs. Tennant, mother of Mrs. tanley, has been completely wrecked at Carorigno, nineteen miles from Brindisi. The Stanley party was on its way to Australia, where the explorer is to lecture. They, with all the other passengers on the train, escaped without injury, though they had a narrow escape from death. The express dashed into a baggage train that was on the track near Carovigno. The railroad officials have ordered the usual investigation to be made into the affair, with the view of affixing the blame where it properly belongs.

There can, of course, be no agreement except there be at least two par-ties thereto, and the league alone is now a party to what they are picased to call the na-tional agreement. It is true, as said by Mr. Young, we are invited to come, make confessions of our sins and be permitted to live under it, but if that instrument is to be in the future as it has in the past a mere cloak to the league for its demination and oppression of clubs and players, we cannot, nor can any other association or league, submit to its yoke. In view of these refusals and because you have won your pennant upon your merits by honest play, I feel justified in saying that during the coming season the association club of Boston is entitled to the honor of bearing the world's championship flag during the season of 1892. Her name has been discovered from letters in her possession. Instead of being Bertie Miller, she is Helen Forstund, and her parents Miller, she is fielen Forstund, and her parents live not far from Spokane Falls, Washington. Helen was the baby and beauty of the family, but her waywardness has been a source of deep grief to her relatives. Saturday the city marshal secured a complete outfit of woman's wear and the female convict donned the attire of her sex, in which she presented quite astriking appearance. She soon tired of the limitations of corset and skirt, however, and again appeared at the cell door in a cutaway and trousers. The fact that a trail of blood was found along the route of the retreating thug who shot Policman Grogan and the man Clark denied that he knew that she was a woman has given rise to a suspicion that she trapped Clark to ecver the retreat of a third person, who was probably her sweetheart.

Grogan was confident he had winged the fleeing footpad who said him, but neither the man Clark nor the roman Forstund bears a scratch Some of the exploits Helen claims credit for at a lar-say discredited, but her description tallies with that of the author of two or three bold acts in Butte.

Two Million Pilgrims Have Gazed Upon the

LONDON, Oct. 12 .- The holy coat exhibition at Treves has not been closed, as a large number of French pilgrims are expected in a day or two. The number of pilgrims has been increasing, instead of diminishing, as the close of the exhibition approaches. The total now is about 2,000,000. About a dozen miracles are reported through touching the holy coat, but the authorities are careful about indorsing any one. They propose to content themselves and satisfy the faithful by simply publishing the certificates of attending physicians as to the condition of the patient before and after touching the relic.

Apart from these certificates the cathedral ecclesiastics will have nothing to say, leaving all to judge for themselves. While of couse it is no part of the plan of the office to interfere with the distinctive religious teaching in these institutions, nor to in any wise hamper them in their missionary work, it is important that the practical education of these pupils in the way of fitting them to earn a living shall not be neglected, but that they shall receive that training which shall prepare them for the competitions of life.

The statement has come to me in a great many forms of late that persons connected with contract schools are using their influence. During the hour to noon the market was dull, featureless and weak, and prices in most cases lost the advance recorded in the last part of the first hour. Chicago gas, however, retained its strength throughout. At this writing (1 p. m.) the general market is ½ to 1 per cent below Saturday's quotations. The sales amounted to

The La Bretagne brought $1,300,000 in gold and the Umbria $1,320,000. The Elbe, which arrived Saturday night, brought $500,000 in with contract schools are using their influence, directly and indirectly, against the government schools on their visits to reservations, advising

They represent a great number of distinct phases of human development. Some are yet very degraded, living a mere animal life with few of the characteristics of humanity, while others have already become absorbed into our national life and are not distinguishable from their fellow citizens. Some still live by hunting and fishing; others, like the Navajos, are successful herders; many cultivate the soil with an increasing degree of success, and others already participate in manufacturing, mercantile and professional life.

While some, like the White Mountain Apaches, are almost utterly destitute of anything that While some, like the White Mountain Apaches, are almost utterly destitute of anything that may be characterized as education, others, like the Poncas and the Pawness, have almost all their children of suitable age in school. While the great majority out of the 250,000 receive absolutely nothing directly from the government in the way of subsistence or support, others, like the Sioux, Cheyennes and Arapahoes and San Carlos Apaches, are dependent largely upon government rations.
